The Chairman of the Parish Council, Cllr. Peter Halsted, is pleased to announce that 'No Footpath' signs have now been erected at both ends of Meeth village.

"As part of the Parish Council's continuing attempts to improve safety on the A386, we are pleased to report that we now have No Footpaths for 700 yards signs at both ends of the village. A small achievement, but still an achievement!"

These have been requested by the parish council for several years and Devon Highways have kindly added them to their budget for the current year. These have been erected during the preparatory work for resurfacing the A386 in early March 2018
